

Director's Greetings

Hello All UUMACers (Past, Present and Future),

The planning for UUMAC 2007 is going very well. We have most of our staff positions filled, with a good mixture of new and returning folk. Most of you have seen the brochure and know that we have an outstanding UUMAC planned for you this year, with a great theme: "The Power of Family Values in Liberal Religious Communities", eleven wonderful workshops (kudos to Nina Lomax and the workshop leaders), and many exciting off-site activities as well (kudos to Crafford Harris and his team).

Other highlights for this year include our marvelous maven of Night Owls cuisine, Andrea Lerner, who has consented once again to provide gastronomic wonders to delight our palates whilst we dance and play the night away. She will be accompanied by her husband, that dynamic doyen of the book store, Ira Lerner, who will be providing a great selection of books, t-shirts, hats, artwork, etc. Night Owls entertainment will be orchestrated by Pete Leary, UU Troubadour <http://www.peteleary.com/>, and his able assistants Jesse Crowley and Rose Chiango. There will also be the UUMAC standards that we have all come to love and expect: the Contra Dance, the auction (don't forget your donations), the talent show, the carnival/picnic, and so much more!

Finally, this year we will have access to a whole new facility – the completed conference center at DeSales, which is attached to the University Center (where we dine), which will allow us to move the registration, opening ceremony, morning worship, theme talks and some workshops into brand new, state of the art facilities. Abby Crowley, UUMAC 2007 Assistant Director, Bill Stratton, UUMAC President, and I saw the facility in early February and we are very excited about the opportunities that this new space affords us.

I look forward to seeing you at UUMAC this year. Remember to register early and save!
